ABOUT ME

I am a passionate young photographer and designer who enjoys the creative industry tremendously. I see the perfections of life in the small details and use this to create something curious and authentic in my designs and photographs. I live for the small moments that often turn out to be life changing. I come from a small mining and farming town which plays an intergeral part of who I am and my creative process. All my projects have a sentimental meaning to me and draws back to my traditional creative process and how I approach the people in my life.
